FAKE SPANISH PRISONER ASKS MERCHANT FOR CASH

Letter Received by Trout Lake Store- Keeper, From Alleged Russian Banker in Toile, Who Offers Reciprocal Chance to Part With Coin

TROUT LAKE, Ore., Jan. 18.—Ulrich Zuberbuhler, a merchant of this place, is the latest to receive one of the swindling Spanish letters designed to separate him from his money, and again it is the Russian banker, suffering in a Spanish prison, who offers a large reward to the recipient of the letter provided the latter will care for the fake prisoner's daughter and keep her in college. The letter is mailed at some point in Spain, bears the Spanish postage stamps, is written in stilted English, and asks than an answer be given. The letter follows: "Prison of Madrid, Nov. 26, 1913. —Mr. Ulrich Zuberbuhler—Dear Sir and Relative: Although I know you only from good references of my dead mother, Mrs. Mary Zuberbuhler, your relative gave me, I address myself to you for the first time, and perhaps the last, in considering my grave state health, requesting your protection to my only daughter, motherless girl of 15 years old, whom is now in college. Before being imprisoned here I was established as a Banker in Russia. I beseech you to help me to obtain the sum of $60,000 dollars I have in America, and to take the care of my daughter by a reward of the third part of said sum and the interest of the whole stock during her minority being, you duly to advance the necessary funds to acquire my baggage seized. As I am in prison it is prohibited me to receive public correspondence, but you will send a cablegram, signed with your full name (not letter) to the servant name of my protector, who will deliver it to me just received to know if you receive this letter and instruct you in all my secret. I charge you absolute reserve about this letter. Awaiting your cable I am, Sir, Yours Truly, Alexander Volkoff. Address N. Jesus, Ayala 44, Madrid, Spain."

OLD MUSIC TEACHER GETS IN TROUBLE OVER GIRLS

Alleged to Have Induced His Son to Marry Lass to Save Father From Disgrace, and is Accused of Other Incidents Unpleasant

PORTLAND, Jan. 18.—A warrant was issued for the arrest of Darwin Wood, who is charged with misrepresenting the age of Mabel Seekatz, aged 14 years, when he and his brother William applied at the marriage license counter for a license for William and the girl to wed. Darwin is said to have made the statement that the girl was 18 years old.

As the result of this complaint it has been learned that Professor De Rome Wood, a music teacher at 266 Knott street, in order to escape trouble, had induced his son to marry the girl. A warrant charging him with a serious crime was this morning secured for his arrest. He was later taken into custody in Seattle.

The two sons and the father are under arrest. In the possession of the police are letters written to the family of two other girls, threatening that if the family exposes him they will lose all the children belonging to it. These girls are 10 and 12 years of age. Their names are withheld from the public by the police. Members of the family, in discussing the arrest of the old man, declared that they did not wish to prosecute, because a conviction would get nothing but unpleasant publicity.

William Wood was arrested by Sergeant Wanless and Patrolman Goits shortly after they had been married in the parsonage of the First Methodist church. The son declares that the father urged him to go through the ceremony, as the girl was madly in love with him, in spite of the fact that the two met but a few days ago. All the girls involved in the case were students of Professor Wood. In the case of the two girls whose names are not mentioned it is said that Wood was preparing to take them to Europe under the guise of completing their musical education.

SMALL GIRL FLAGS TRAIN THUS AVERTING DISASTER

Seven-Year-Old Daughter of Section Foreman on Southern Pacific Discovers Broken Rail and Signals the Eastbound Overland Limited

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—For her presence of mind in signaling the east-bound Overland Limited last Saturday and preventing a disaster, 7-year-old Helen Martin, daughter of a section foreman at Alta, Placer county, probably will receive a handsome reward from the Southern Pacific company. Her heroism, which saved the train from a broken rail that would have hurled it down an embankment, was brought to the notice of Division Superintendent H. W. Sheridan, who sent the facts to the company officials and also a letter of thanks to the little girl and her 14-year-old sister, Alma.

Helen was alone when she discovered the broken rail, but she knew No. 3 was due, and running to the block station, telephoned the agent at Toile, only to learn that the train had passed Dutch Flat. She then called for her elder sister, and the pair ran down the track. As the train came in sight the children waved their arms frantically, and the train stopped.

Bad credit of the city results from the failure to pay bills promptly.

RAPP RAPS MRS. RAPP AND SAYS WILL REMAIN AWAY

Husband of Ernestine Schumann-Heink, Operatic Warbler, Claims She Humiliated Him in Public, and That Her Offspring Insulted Him

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Reconciliation between Madame Schumann-Heink and her youthful husband, William Rapp, who is being sued for divorce, is impossible, according to a statement by Rapp, in which he denied that the diva's children are the real cause of their incompatibility, and said that he was the man who made the singer rich.

"It is the same old story," he declared. "An artist cannot be a good mother. It is impossible."

He referred to Madame Schumann-Heink's statement that he wanted the children to be self made, as was he, and would not permit them little luxuries of life.

One of the sons is working in a Chicago department store, one is an insurance agent, and another is a reporter.

"It would have been different if I had been the madame's husband," Rapp continued. "But I was more than that—I was her manager. When we were married she had $60,000. Now she has $500,000. Before I was her manager she made from $400 to $600 a concert. Now she receives from $2,000 to $3,000. And she has given me a place to sleep, and fed and clothed me. But I didn't ask money from her."

Regarding his previous separations with her, he said:

"I left her four times. Each time she sought reconciliation. But finally life became intolerable. She humiliated me in public time and again, and I was always insulted by her children. I could not stand it, so we separated. The night I left the house I met her at the ferry and kissed her goodbye. She wept. But it is too late now to talk of another reconciliation."

RANCHER DROWNS AS HORSE STUMBLES WHILE FORGING

Nestucca River at Crossing in Swollen Stream—As He Falls, Rider Strikes Floating Log, Which is Believed to Stun Him

SHERIDAN, Ore., Jan. 18.—James M. Dingwall, formerly employed in the carpet department of the Melroe & Frank store in Portland, but lately a rancher on the upper Nestucca River, was drowned in that river last Friday afternoon, and the body, after a long search, was recovered. Dingwall has taken up a claim on the upper Nestucca River, twenty miles northwest of this place, and was in Sheridan last Friday to purchase a quantity of supplies, and hired a teamster to take them out to his claim. He was on horseback and followed the loaded wagon. When crossing the river at a ford his horse stumbled in the swollen stream and fell, hurling the rider into the waters. The man in falling struck a floating log, and it appears to have stunned him, for he sank and was not seen to rise again.

The body was brought to Williamina and shipped to Portland for burial.

This was the champion's positive declaration after he had motored in from Venice with his manager, Tom Jones.

Wolgast expressed his willingness to meet Joe Rivers in his next fight, expressing at the same time a high opinion of the little Mexican's ability. He said he would be open for an engagement either on Labor Day or Admission Day.
